

"Painting With Words"

A New Women's "Study Group" for Lower Church!

"Painting with Words" is an idea for a new Women's Study Group I would like to start at Lower Church. It is a "creative Bible study" and book club and will be open to all women at Lower. The first "Words" we will study will be based on the poetry book Have You Met Eve? about the women of the Bible. It was written by my good friend and poet/author Joyce Carr Stedelbauer of Williamsburg.

The book is no longer available except as a "used" option online. However, the author has given me permission to make copies of each month's poetry study for the ladies in the class. It will be fun to take turns choosing the Women of the Bible that we discuss each month with their coordinating Bible verses.

In Joyce's poetic words about the "Ladies of the Scripture" (from page 1) "You whisper with few words, spoken softly, through crenelated centuries with messages needing to be heard".

"Painting with words" is literally forming a picture in our minds with creatively spoken or written language... for me it means not using paint!

We will meet in the Fellowship Hall on the third Tuesday of each month at 11:00 AM. The first class begins on February 21. If you are interested in learning more, please let me know! Registration is helpful so that you will receive advance notice of each month's lesson and the coordinating scriptures.
